

Instructor Bio:

The speaker, Phil Marcoux has earned a reputation as a futurist in the electronics industry. He was named “the father of SMT” by the IPC. He founded one of the first wafer level semiconductor packaging companies, ChipScale, in 1992 and authored the first text on Fine Pitch SMT.

Phil earned his BSEE from University of Florida and MSEE from University of Santa Clara where he also served as an Associate Professor. He holds over 10 patents and has served in executive management positions in both private and public companies. From 2003 to 2006 Phil was Executive Director of MEPTEC.