Jesper Lykke Biography:

Born in Aarhus, Denmark
Graduated in Electrical Engineering at Aarhus Engineering school in 1992, in Denmark.
Moved to the US in 2005
I've been working for Viscom for 11 years, with more than 20 years experience in manufacturing and optical inspection.

Summary
Automated optical inspection has been used for some time now and automated x-ray inspection machines have become a necessity on assemblies with BGA’s, QFN’s, LLP’s, shielded components and component shadowing on densely populated boards. These machines are great at catching manufacturing defects, but another benefit is performing SPC analysis on the data gathered to resolve manufacturability issues, improve first pass yield and increase manufacturing throughput.

Presidents Message

Greetings to SMTA Dallas Chapter members and guests.

2013 has drawn to a close and we begin a new year. 2013 was supposed to be a ‘recovery’ year with an improved business climate, but the recovery was less than stellar. Some manufacturing has re-shored to the North American market, but we haven’t seen too much in the U.S. A slower than expected economy and a draw-down of forces in the middle east has meant cut-backs in most military spending. On the plus side, Apple is making an effort to manufacture products in the U.S. and Motorola has followed suit. More good news has been the expansion of some contract manufacturers.

2014 is here and we’re looking for an improvement in the business climate. Your Dallas SMTA officers will be bringing in technical speakers to address issues and interests in our industry. To that end, please mark your calendar for Friday, January 10. Our first monthly chapter meeting will feature Jesper Lykke, Engineering Manager from Viscom, Inc. Jesper’s presentation will focus on utilizing your AOI and AXI machines as process improvement tools. Look for details on the meeting time and location in an email from Gary Tanel later this week.

Another date to add to your calendar is Tuesday, March 4. This will be the date of our SMTA Expo. You’ll notice we managed to avoid putting this year’s Expo smack in the middle of Spring Break!

I look forward to seeing y’all at our next meeting on January 10 at the DoubleTree.

Best regards,
Jack Harris
Dallas Chapter President

"DERAILLED AND DEPARTED"

Attorney Dewey Cheatumgood, a dubious dealer of bogus railroad bonds, has been killed and there's no shortage of stockholders to suspect. On any given day that'd be enough to keep Marshal Jim Courtright busy, but word is a notorious gunslinger named Dude is coming to town and now everyone's on edge. Did Captain Calvin, the shell shocked sole survivor of Custer’s Last Stand cause another casualty? Could the fast talking salesman Edward Ponzee have closed a final deal with the deceased? Might Maggie Magpie, the former magician’s assistant, have created another widow? Or did the Dude lay the lawyer low for another bounty? Can the Marshal keep everyone calm enough to solve the murder of an unlikeable lawyer? Hold on tight 'cause this wild bunch is bound to run right off the rails.
