

Amy Lujan, Business Development VP, SavanSys Solutions

Amy received her degree in Chemistry from The College of William and Mary. She is currently VP of Business Development at SavanSys Solutions LLC. Prior to joining SavanSys, Amy held positions in business development at TOK America and in engineering at Nokia Japan. In 2006, she spent one year in Japan on a Fulbright grant, analyzing the cost impact of shifting to lead-free manufacturing.